Build connections, skills and confidence for isolated local women by investing in sewing machines and equipment for group activities and skill building.

Tell us about what you achieved, what was most successful? What are you most proud of?

We are most proud of the fact that our ladies embraced, the idea of sewing, how easy & enjoyable it is. How much can be learnt & how it can help their families, through saving, resources, money & be more sustainable.

Our group feel the isolation is gone from their lives, as we meet on common ground now. They have built skills and confidence.

Through this grant process our members have been empowered, encouraged and have embraced new tasks.

We are extremely proud of how our members, and how they have truly starting to take their newfound skills out into our community.

We are truly thankful to FRRR for the contribution you have made to help us on our journey.

Were there challenges? What would you do differently next time?

The only challenges were the actual mastering of the machines themselves.

I don't think we could do anything any differently next time, as learning is all part of the process.

Comments:

We want to thank FRRR, the process was easy to navigate, as new grant applicants, we didn't find it overwhelming.

The sewing machines are used on a daily basis, we are all learning new techniques and are endeavoring to hold a market stall in the new year to sell our sewing items.

We are excited and very thrilled to have achieved so much with your help.

Being a very small rural community it is been a vital part of the women's shed growth, and the project has bolstered self-esteem and brought confidence.

So a huge thank you from our very happy members.
